Exploring Information Sources

georgiasouthern.libguides.com/hist1112 Hello!
I am Autumn Johnson
Special Collections Librarian
Liaison to History, Art, & Theatre
autumnjohnson@georgiasouthern.edu
By the end of the session, you will be able to:

- Locate and navigate Library course guide
- Recognize how information changes over time
- Locate appropriate library tools to find the information you need
Family Separation Policy
Russian interference
Mid-term Elections
Mollie Tibbetts
Russian interference
Michael Cohen
Aretha Franklin
#metoo
XXXTentacion
Information Cycle

Minutes
Social Media
Twitter, Facebook, Instagram, Snapchat

Days
News Sites, TV, Radio, & Newspapers
CNN.com, Fox News, BBC Radio, New York Times

Weeks
Weekly Magazines
Time, Newsweek, People, The New Yorker

1 Month
Monthly Magazines
Wired, National Geographic, Scientist
Information Cycle

Why so long? Expert Scholars will develop theories and conduct research to explain the reasons, consequences, and/or future implications of an event. Articles will be published in scholarly journals describing and explaining the results of this research.

Books often provide in-depth, comprehensive coverage of an event, expanding upon themes, subjects, and analysis previously explored in published sources. Compiling and publishing this information tends to take more time.

Often written by scholars, researchers, and professionals, but credentials of authors can vary.
Have Questions?

Need Help?

- Check the LibGuide
- Check the LibGuide
- Check the LibGuide

- Visit, email, or call me!
  Library Room 2210L
  autumnjohnson@georgiasouthern.edu
  912.478.7819
Before Next Monday’s Class….

1. Find the LibGuide georgiasouthern.libguides.com/hist1112
2. Select the 3-2-1 tab.
3. Fill in and submit.